

METHODS AND APPARATUS FOR COMPUTED
TOMOGRAPHY IMAGING

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A method for arranging detector sections for an imaging system that has a field of view that is defined by a rotational axis and imaging geometry is provided. The method includes providing a plurality of detector sections, and arranging the detector sections in an asymmetric arrangement about a central axis of the field of view.